Note the Money-Saving Price Stamped on the Sole

No guess work about these new Regal prices. The price is stamped right on the shoe—at the factory. And it isn't stamped on until chartered public accountants have figured the cost of manufacture and of marketing and added the Five Per Cent. Commission.

These accountants pay no attention to the old-fashioned superstition of "even money" prices. All they care about is an accurate, close-fitting price.

The chief thing that Regal designers care about is to put just as much Value—just as much Style and Comfort and Wear—as they can squeeze into each shoe.

The thing you care about in shoes—namely, big value in a close-fitting price—you're sure to find in Regals.

WEST TOPSHAM.

Miss Inez Tubbs went to Barre, Tuesday for a stay of several days.

Eugene Fellows has been engaged to teach a five weeks' term of school in the Warren Currier district.

Mrs. Addie Palmer and daughter, Nora, were recent visitors at the latter's sister's, Mrs. James Rouhan.

Mr. and Mrs. C. H. McCallis of Hyde Park, Mass., are occupying the Jackson homestead for an indefinite time.

Our village school, in charge of Miss Mary White, has about 35 pupils enrolled for this, the closing term of the year.

Charles Carpenter of Bellows Falls was a visitor at C. H. McCallis' Monday and Tuesday of this week. He came by auto.

Mrs. George Bond is improving slowly from the effects of her recently broken arm. Her brother, Mr. Whitehill of Groton, is here for the present.

The dance and promenade at the village hall last Saturday evening, in honor of the 18th birthday anniversary of Clara, the eldest daughter of Moses Hood, was a great success in every way.

An excellent temperance sermon was given by Pastor Wesley at the union church Sunday morning. The pastor's auto has not yet appeared, but is at the repair shop in Burlington, and will soon be in evidence.

Lewis Wilds is steadily gaining, much to the satisfaction of his many friends. It seems that Dr. Dow understands his case and may bring Lewis onto his feet, as he has several other seemingly hopeless cases in his practice during the past few months.

NEW DEPARTURE

Selling Medicines at Half Price Under Guarantee of Cure.

After two months of remarkable sales, D. F. Davis, the enterprising druggist, says that his plan of selling at half price the regular 50 cent size of Dr. Howard's specific for the cure of constipation and dyspepsia, and guaranteeing to refund the money if it does not cure, has been the greatest success he has ever known.

Anyone suffering with dyspepsia, constipation, liver troubles, headaches, dizziness, coated tongue, or the general tired feeling, caused by inactive liver and bowels or disordered digestion, should take advantage of D. F. Davis' new departure and buy a bottle of Dr. Howard's specific at half price, with his personal guarantee to refund the money if it does not cure.

RANDOLPH.

Funeral of N. Osgood Snow and Death of Mrs. Oscar Colburn.

The remains of N. Osgood Snow were brought here from Springfield, Mass., on Monday, and interment was made in the Southview cemetery. Rev. Fraser Metzger officiating. Mr. Snow was for some time a resident of this place and was in the employ of W. E. Lamson as a painter and paper hanger and beside that, was quite an artist, and many Randolph homes are to-day in possession of landscape paintings of his work. Mr. Snow is survived by a son, Emmons Snow, and a daughter, Carrie, who is now known as Mrs. Albin. Deceased is also survived by a wife, who was unable to make the journey here.

The Randolph high school baseball team gained a victory over the Montpelier high school here at McCall's park Monday, the score being 8 to 2.

Mrs. Ide Sargent of Patterson, N. J., was the guest of Mr. and Mrs. D. D. Howe Tuesday, and from here to Granville to superintend some repairs on a summer home which her family owns there, and where they will pass the coming summer months.

Arthur Watrous was brought here from Waterbury on Tuesday by the assistant supervisor of the hospital for the insane, for a hearing before Judge Stow and State's Attorney Wilson of Chelsea. Watrous was sent back to the hospital for treatment for a time.

Mrs. O. P. Hood passed safely through a very difficult operation for a stomach trouble on Monday, Dr. Maynard, assisted by the local physicians, performing the operation. Mrs. Hood rallied from the ether, and was comfortable as could be expected, and hopes are entertained of her final recovery.

Miss Harriet Hayward and her sister, Mrs. Bertha Burridge, entertained the local chapter of the Daughters of American Revolution at the parlors of the Randolph inn on Monday afternoon. Twelve ladies were present, and after listening to an interesting paper on "Colonial Customs," by Miss Nichols of Randolph Center, the company were treated to delicious refreshments, all making the afternoon one of much pleasure to those present. The next meeting will be held at Randolph Center, at the home of Mrs. Lucy Parish, when the election of officers for the coming year will take place, it being the annual meeting.

Mr. and Mrs. A. N. Cathan received news of the death of their only daughter, Mrs. Oscar Colburn, on Tuesday at Lincoln, where she has been some time with her husband, who is in charge of a creamery there. Mrs. Colburn underwent a severe operation at the Mary Fletcher hospital in the early spring, for the removal of a malignant growth, and had gained from that, and her parents supposed her to be gaining, and expected her here for the month of June.

Addie May (Cathan) Colburn was born in Randolph 43 years ago last October, the daughter of Alvin and Phoebe (Orcutt) Cathan, and nearly all of her life has been passed here. Deceased was graduated from the Randolph high school in 1890, and has kept in close touch with some of her class, some of whom reside here at this time. Seven years ago she married Oscar Colburn, and up to within one year had still made this her home, and is very well known in the village. The remains will be brought here to-day, and the funeral services will be held in the Bethany church, of which deceased had been long a member. This affliction falls heavily on the parents, who have no other children, and are no longer in firm health. The husband of the deceased survives also.

THEY WANT COAL

And Alaskans Are Taking Measures to Get It.

Cordova, Alaska, May 24.—Unwilling to sit idly by awaiting the action of the government in opening the Alaskan coal lands, nearly 100 citizens of Cordova left Monday for the Bering river coal regions near Katalla, 25 miles east of here, where they intend to mine coal for the markets of this city and other Alaskan towns. A subscription list was circulated and liberal contributions were made to finance the expedition.

It is the intention of the coal seekers, to locate a mine and acquire coal claims, which they will undertake to work at once without waiting action by the government.

If the government objects, the miners declare that it will be necessary to send a force of men to stop the operations.

The expedition left Cordova in four launches and a barge.

BOOKMAKERS "PLAIN EVERY-DAY THIEVES"

Declares An Ex-Bookmaker Before the Senate Committee at Albany—Horse Racing Dead Without Relief.

Albany, N. Y., May 24.—The Senate codes committee listened for three hours yesterday to arguments on two bills introduced by Senator Gittins amending present laws prohibiting track gambling. One of these bills seeks to strike from the statute books the clause holding directors of racing associations personally liable for betting at the tracks. The other defines "bookmaking with writing," which was incorporated into the statutes last year on the recommendation of Governor Hughes, as meaning "laying or publishing of odds to all comers or to the public."

Those opposed to these measures contended that their obvious purpose is to restore race track gambling, but Richard T. Wilson, Jr., president of the Saratoga Racing association, told the committee that the race track men are absolutely opposed to betting and would not have the anti-gambling laws repealed if they could.

"Some betting goes on at the tracks," said Mr. Wilson, "and betting will continue to go on there and elsewhere so long as the world turns round. The best we can do is to minimize it. Why, if the present laws were literally construed and enforced, they would close every club, and every director of a railroad or proprietor of a hotel could be sent to jail."

After the hearing, Mr. Wilson said that horse racing in this state is absolutely dead unless some such relief as is incorporated in these bills shall be adopted.

Edward A. Tipton, partner in the largest concern in this country that handles blooded horses, declared that his firm had not sold a single thoroughbred except for export since the directors liability act became a law. Similar testimony was given by John Sanford, an Amsterdam manufacturer, who has been interested in horse breeding, and Charles A. Lexow, representing the New York City Liverymen's association. The hotel men's association were represented by attorneys who favored the bills.

In opposition, Harry Brolaski, who described himself as a bookmaker until a year ago, denounced those engaged in that occupation as "plain, every day thieves." He related, from his own experience, how betting odds are manipulated, jockeys bribed and the "sucker public" robbed on the tracks.

"The one honest thing on a race track," said Mr. Brolaski, "is the horse. With very few exceptions, bookmakers would be in prison if you didn't license them to skin the public."

AFTER TEN YEARS

New York's New Public Library Formally Dedicated.

New York, May 24.—The New York public library, ready for use after ten years, was formally dedicated yesterday at 10 o'clock, and the opening of the $10,000,000 or more, equipped the center of public attention here yesterday.

President Taft, Governor Dix, Mayor Gaynor and 500 other notables were among the 15,000 invited guests.

The police arrangements included the massing of 500 men on foot and horse to keep order in the square at Fifth avenue and 42d street, which the big building occupies. A squad of mounted policemen escorted President Taft from the Pennsylvania station to the marble hall, where the reception to city, state and national officers was held at 2 o'clock. The formal exercises of the opening, which the 15,000 invited guests were privileged to attend, were set for 4 o'clock.

The police orders were to allow no one to enter the library who was not provided with an admission ticket, to allow no canes or umbrellas, and not to permit a camera inside the building. Elaborate precautions for the protection of the president were insisted upon. The visitors were only permitted to pass through the great marble hallways and a few of the larger rooms.

To-day the entire building was thrown open to the public without restrictions.

THE DUVEEN CASE.

It Further Attracts the Attention of the Courts.

New York, May 24.—Henry J. and Benjamin Duveen, the international art dealers, appeared yesterday in the United States district court and pleaded guilty to an indictment charging them with undervaluation of imports. Joseph J. and Louis J. Duveen, brothers, and also members of the firm, pleaded guilty to similar indictments last March and were fined $10,000 each.

The firm has already made a cash settlement of $1,200,000 with the government but at that time the district attorney said the possibility of criminal proceedings still impended.

The district attorney made a strong plea for a jail term, but the court postponed sentence until to-day. The plea of guilty was withdrawn until that time and bail was continued in the amount now standing.

NYE ON TRIAL FOR BRIBERY.

Ohio Legislator's Case Before the State Court at Columbus.

Columbus, O., May 24.—Representative George B. Nye of Pike County, who is a physician at Waverly, was placed on trial yesterday before Judge Kinkaid, on the charge of soliciting a bribe of $500 from State Printer Edward A. Crawford, to vote for the Kimball bill, which reapportioned common pleas judicial districts. The bill was aimed at Judge A. Z. Blair of Scioto county, who was instrumental in exposing the wholesale frauds in Adams and Scioto counties. Nye is under indictment on two other charges of soliciting bribes and is the first of the half-dozen or more members of the Ohio legislature to be placed on trial. Attorney General Hogan is assisting Prosecuting Attorney Turner in the case.

The committee of ten appointed by the Senate to investigate the charges of bribery made against members of that body met yesterday to begin its inquiry. The names of E. E. Cook and C. C. Lyon of Columbus, and A. C. Crouse of Cincinnati, and Ralph G. Lebond of Toledo, all legislative correspondents, were called when the committee got down to business, but all refused, through their attorney, R. W. McCoy, to testify. The attorney declared that the committee was not empowered to even call witnesses, much less force them to testify.
